Achievements

Just2easy is a small company. I was given a variety of different tasks when I worked for them, front end and back end. One of my biggest achievements during my time with them was creating new parts of the website. I worked on creating a journal page, allowing users to post their favourite work to other uses, and a remake of their homework system. I worked with other members of the team; I followed designs given by the graphic designer and made the user interface, as well as making it more mobile friendly. I found this part of the job very rewarding.
